Precis, with quotations, of report (cf FE/4967/BII/1 7)

"A certain PLA unit stationed in Chekiang Province, carrying forward the PLA's glorious tradition of supporting the Government and cherishing the people, has sent commanders and fighters to take part in manual labour at six industrial enterprises in Hangchow

"This unit pays great attention to taking part in industrial productive labour and supporting socialist construction On the eve of 'lst August', the Party committee of the unit held a special meeting to conduct studies and formulate plans At the meeting, members of the Party committee studied the theory of the dictatorship of the proletariat, and recalled the happy occasion when our great leader Chairman Mao received them in recognition of their support to the people in land reclamation and farming in the frontier region and their role in laying the material foundation for winning the war during the great production movement in those years in Yenan They also happily reviewed the close relations between the armymen and people during the period of socialist construction when troops actively support industrial and agricultural production and fight in unity alongside the workers and poor and lower-middle peasants In addition, they discussed the significance of their current support of industrial production for the development of the national economy, the strengthening of Army-Government unity and Army-people unity, and the consolidation of the dictatorship of the proletariat They decided to assign principal leading cadres of the unit to lead commanders and fighters to take part in physical labour in two successive groups at the Hangchow iron and steel works, the Hangchow oxygen equipment manufacturing works, the Hangchow silk printing and dyeing integrated works, the Hangchow No 1 cotton textile, printing and dyeing works, the Hangchow No 2 cotton textile mill and the Chekiang bast fibre textile mill Many veteran fighters who have fought hundreds of battles, displaying war-time revolutionary zeal, work alongside the workers "

Li Kuang-shan, unit commander, as soon as he arrived at the Hangchow silk printing and dyeing integrated works, joined the workers in servicing and repairing machinery Wu Wan-wan, Commander of the Red Army Regiment (Hung Chun Tuan 4767 6511 0957), works at the printing and dyeing workshop of the Hangchow No 1 cotton textile, printing and dyeing works He chooses to do difficult tasks there in spite of his age The fighters of the "hard bone" sixth company are working at the Hangchow oxygen equipment manufacturing works and the Hangchow iron and steel works. They are responsible for compressing scrap steel The Hungchi repair shop which scored merits on the Korean battlefield has recently sent 15 technicians to service and repair machinery at the power workshop of the Chekiang bast fibre textile mill "The fighters of the seventh company are charged with the task of (?taking inventory) (fan tsang 5064 0221) at the cement warehouse [as transmitted] of the oxygen equipment manufacturing works They completed one day's work in two hours and were praised by the workers.

"During work breaks, the commanders and fighters of this unit also pay attention to doing mass work, propagandizing the directives of Chairman Mao and the Party Central Committee, and achieving great revolutionary unity Some of them give works by Marx, Lenin and Chairman Mao as gifts to the workers Others take advantage of breaks to hold discussion meetings with the workers Still others help workshops to publish special columns on grasping revolution and promoting production, thereby steadily arousing everyone's enthusiasm The cadres and fighters of a certain Red Army regiment, carrying forward its glorious tradition of the Red Army period in fighting and studying alongside the people wherever they were, enthusiastically join the workers in studying the theory of the dictatorship of the proletariat and in criticizing Lin Piao's counter-revolutionary revisionist line All companies in this regiment have organized propaganda and study groups, composed primarily of backbone theorists They relate to the workers their experience in studying theory and at the same time learn from the workers about the latter's advanced experience in theoretical studies "

Various subordinate units under this PLA unit have dispatched among the masses literary and art propaganda teams and film projection teams to give performances and show films

"The participation in industrial labour by the commanders and fighters of this unit is warmly welcomed by the workers The commanders and fighters take the workers' encouragement as a great motive force for driving themselves forward Many companies have held meetings and effected measures for learning from the working class and inviting veteran workers to discuss their experiences The regiment has organized 50 or so study groups, held discussion meetings with the worker comrades and invited veteran workers to make reports By modestly learning the good thinking and style of work of the working class, the regiment has promoted its own revolutionization "
