Study Sessions Restore Discipline at Sian Works

Sian, Shensi provincial service 1300 gmt 26 July 75

Excerpts from report:

"The Party committee of Sian high-tension switch factory, through studying the theory of the dictatorship of the proletariat, has further corrected its ideological and political line, displayed the revolutionary spirit of daring to struggle and daring to accept responsibility, and led staff and workers to achieve a big and rapid increase of output: During the first half of the year, overfulfilment of quotas was achieved in both the total value of industrial output and the quantity of various products, thus realizing the demand of "fulfilling half the task in half the time". In comparison with the same period of last year, the total value of industrial output increased by 11%, quality of products remained stable, and consumption of raw materials fell somewhat.

At the beginning of this year, some leading members of the Party committee of this factory, because of the overfulfilment of quotas last year, harboured feelings of slackness. They did not grasp tightly the class struggle and did not conduct effective criticism of evil winds and sinister airs. The activism of the working personnel was not fully mobilized, affecting production in the first quarter In the face of this situation some cadres always laid stress on external factors and did not understand enough about the internal problems

Since the second quarter, through studying Chairman Mao's important instruction on the question of theory, analysing the situation, disclosing the discrepancies, and setting forth the problems, they realized that the main reason for the unsatisfactory results in the first quarter was internal. It was because the ideological and political line of the leading members of the Party committee was not correct enough, and the tasks of the dictatorship of the proletariat had not been truly implemented down to the basic levels. When the internal factors for the slow development of the situation of revolution and production were discovered, the Party committee of the factory then led the staff and workers to whip up an upsurge of study. In the past few months the factory has held more than 120 study classes, and trained as backbone theorists about one-third of the total working personnel in the factory It has also held more than 90 meetings to exchange experiences in study and written more than 210 articles on theory

Having launched the masses to expose and criticize, they have dealt severely with bad people sabotaging the work of grasping revolution and promoting production and disturbing order in society. As to workers who have made ordinary mistakes, study classes have been held to help them to correct their errors. At the same time they have strictly observed work attendance and the post responsibility system and strengthened the workers' sense of organization and discipline They have also helped the leading cadres at all levels to correct their ideological and political line and animate their revolutionary spirits. The necessary re adjustments have been carried out in the cases of those members of leadership groups who pursued disunity and were irresponsible in work Thus they have strengthened unity and marched in step
